

Obesity News
14th January 2010

High risk of suffering from heart disease for obese men

Childhood obesity is a factor in developing heart disease

Obesity may have adverse role in HIV treatment

Battling obesity in America

Paying the cost of fighting obesity

Pregnant women should be weighed regularly to protect babies from danger of obesity

Friendship may stave off rise in kids' obesity

We just keep getting fatter

Overweight could earn £1,750 from slimming

Snacks sold at non-food stores may be fuelling obesity

US adult obesity still high, but recent data suggest rates may have stabilized

Obesity linked to common form of kidney cancer and each extra point increases risk

Can sweeteners be blamed for rise in obesity?

Prevalence of high body mass index among children and teens remains steady

OTHER

Romania first to introduce junk food tax

Fast food firmly entrenched in students' lifestyle

New national survey of children's health shows insurance gaps, more obesity, more children at risk

Junk food fills children's lunchboxes

CV measures taken in childhood predict Type II diabetes in later life

Archive news is available on
<http://www.iaso.org/HOPEObesityintheNewsArchive.htm>

The press links are provided for information only, their inclusion is not indicative of IASO/HOPE endorsement.

If you have any comments or articles for inclusion please email:
HOPEnet@iaso.org

